Miss Forester had as her bridesmaids Miss Katherine Crowninshield of Boston, Miss Ann Taylor and Miss Barbara Francis of Marion, Miss Sarah Barrows of Philadelphia, Pa. and Miss Coventry Liggett of New York City. Miss Eleanor Angle of Marion, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. The bridesmaids were attired in pale green chiffon gowns with robin's egg blue sashes, wreaths of leaves in their hair and they carried white flowers.

Mr. W. Conner Denckla of New York City was best man for Mr. Vinson. Ushers were Mr. Stephen Charnas of Cambridge, Mr. Peter J. Parker of Buffalo, New York, Mr. Fred Poe of Little Rock, Arkansas, Mr. Woodruff M. Price of New York City and Mr. Peter Vinson, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was graduated from St. Timothy's School, Stevenson, Maryland and from Radcliffe College in 1956. She made her debut in the 1952-53 season and is a member of the Junior League and the Vincent Club. She is a granddaughter of the late Governor and Mrs. Eugene N. Foss of Boston and of Mrs. F. FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

Feb. 5th. Thursday the wind is light from E.S.E. We saw a sail this morning standing to the West. We tar down rigging, otherwise the monotony of the scene is the same. Tiberone Isle is distant 70 miles E.N.E.

Feb. 6th. Friday the wind is E.N.E. and S.E. We make some progress to the North. Nothing unusual occurs.

Feb. 7th. Saturday the wind veers round N.E. We overhaul the lanyards to our fore and main rigging and fit some new ones. The weather is verry pleasant today. We tack ship at 3 and head to the East.

Feb. 8th, Sunday. Today the wind veers on the northern board back and forth from East to West. We make verry little progress in any direction. It seems as if the spell of the enchanter was around us. No Observation.

Feb. 9th. Monday there is a pleasant gale from N.E. Today we knot rope yarns and make spun yarn. The scene is solitary around us. Home sweet Home appears like a beautiful vision of the past to cheer the heart of the exile on his lonely way.

Feb. 10th. Tuesday the wind is from the Northward and Eastward. We repair our maintopgallant sail. One day now is but the type of another.

Feb. 11th. Wednesday the wind is N.E. We repair the maintopsail and slowly pursue our solitary way on the trackless deep.

Feb. 12th. Thursday the wind is East and pleasant gales. We begin to break out the after hatch water and provision indiscriminately. The carpenter begins a chain bin in the lower hold. We are a going to shift our cables from betweendecks forward to the lower hold aft. The ship is too much by the head. This night our decks are loaded with provision, water, chain cables & C in blessed confusion.

Feb. 13th. Friday the wind is East. We continue to break out and stow down water in the after hold. At 3 P. M. we raised a shoal of sperm whale. At 4 we lowered and chased them. Capt. Chester struck a small one. They did not bring to. No other boat had a chance to get fast as the shoal went off to windward. We took him alongside, put all our purchases on him and hoisted him on deck and took supper. At 9 in the evening. He was 25 feet long, something like 7 in diameter and 7 feet from point to point of his flukes. He will make 7 barrels. There was large sharks 12 or 14 feet long hovering about the boats all the time. They were off from the ship. The moment the whale was dead they went to eating him. Woe to the man that is in the water near them.

Feb. 14th. Saturday the wind is E.N.E. We finish stowing the after hatch, put the cables in their new home and start the try works.

Feb. 15th. Sunday the wind is East. We finish our little whale. He will make 7 barrels. Cool down the works. Nothing is in sight for the wearied eye to gaze on but a watery desert. We cross the line today in Longitude 146 54' West.

Feb. 16th. Monday the wind is East and E. by S. We break out the blubber room and clear it up and put the fore hold to rights. At 6 P.M. our flying jib split to pieces. We are now without any.

Feb. 17th. Tuesday the wind is E. by S. We make a new side ladder and do some caulking about decks, otherwise the same monotony prevails around us. Our passengers are natives of the Town of Hartland, Windsor County, Vermont. They have been in the Sandwich Isles 13 years. Their age is 33 years. They seem to be the most united of any brethern I ever saw. They came to the Pacific in the Ship BEAVER of Hudson.
